OVERVIEW

Booker T. Washington is a world-class high school in the heart of America. In 2009, the school received the coveted distinction of being a Blue Ribbon School recognized by the United States government for being academically superior. Our school is consistently listed as one of Newsweek's best high schools, and was named the top public high school in the State of Oklahoma by U.S. News and World Report in 2013. Founded in 1913 to serve the citizens of the African-American community, Booker T. Washington was chosen in 1973 to be the vehicle for Tulsa's school desegregation program. This school was established as a magnet school and serves students from every racial, ethnic, religious, and socio-economic group in Tulsa. Booker T. Washington continues to thrive based on the twin ideals of promoting excellence and acceptance of diversity. This philosophy has resulted in our institution's recognition as one of the most successful secondary schools in the United States. Our racially-balanced student body boasts a nationally-ranked academic bowl team and forensics team as well as championship basketball, football, soccer, speech & debate, and volleyball teams. Booker T. Washington is at the forefront of academic trends as the first Tulsa Public High School to offer Advanced Placement courses and is one of only two high schools in Oklahoma to offer the International Baccalaureate Diploma. We are the only high school in Oklahoma to offer the Middle Years Programme. With the International Baccalaureate Diploma and Advanced Placement Program, our school attracts students who thrive in a challenging environment. Major universities and colleges, as well as technical, business, art and music academies actively recruit Booker T. Washington students. In 2013, Booker T. Washington High School celebrated its 100th year.

TYPE OF SCHOOL Booker T. Washington is a public high school, established in 1913. Since 1973, it has been Tulsa's comprehensive magnet high school. BTW is accredited by the State of Oklahoma and the North Central Association.
